CONTENTS OF VOLUME I.

No. I.

Article		Page
I.	Περὶ Αρχῶν.—About Beginnings	1
II.	Cyprian's Letter to Fidus	21
III.	Who was Theodore Parker?	27
IV.	Poetry — Our Sea-Shore	61
V.	Accidents or Providences, Which?	63
VI.	Transcendental Science	75
VII.	Nature-Worship; its Root and its Fruit	77
VIII.	Literary Notices	87
IX.	Short Sermons	94
X.	The Round Table	95

No. II.

I.	Theology, Old and New	97
II.	Will Future Punishment be merely the Result of Natural Laws?	113
III.	The Theology of Plymouth Pulpit	129
IV.	Mrs. Browning and Christian Poetry	154
V.	Fear as a Christian Motive	165
VI.	It was always so	175
VII.	The Origin of the Latin Vulgate	184
VIII.	Short Sermons	195
IX.	Literary Notices	197
X.	The Round Table	203

No. III.

I.	Doctrinal Preaching	209
II.	Scheffer's Temptation of Jesus	223
III.	The Theology of Plymouth Pulpit	228
IV.	Old Unitarianism and New Orthodoxy	261
V.	The Repose of Faith	273
VI.	Historic Arminianism	287

VII. Literary Notices 302
VIII. Short Sermons 306
IX. The Round Table 308

No. IV.

I. Metes and Bounds, Compass and Chain . . . 313
II. Ruskin's Religious Suggestiveness 323
III. The Holy Spirit in Troublous Times . . . 338
IV. Monica, the Mother of Augustine 363
V. Intellectual and Moral Culture in our Public Schools 371
VI. "The Professor's Story" 384
VII. Generic Application of Apocalyptic Symbols . 398
VIII. The Standard of the Northern Army . . . 402
IX. Short Sermons 410
X. Literary Notices 411
XI. The Round Table 415

No. V.

I. God's Archers 421
II. One of Tennyson's Poems 436
III. Immortality and Annihilation 445
IV. The Place of Romance in Literature . . . 460
V. Uzzen-Sherah; and Israel's Right to Canaan . 472
VI. Creeds 489
VII. Gibeah — A Lesson for the Times 505
VIII. Literary Notices 507
IX. Short Sermons 511
X. The Round Table 514

No. VI.

I. Distinctions with a Difference 517
II. The Homes of Literary Men 528
III. Bossuet 538
IV. Communing with Spirits 568
V. Escaping Oblivion 579
VI. Exegesis on Ephesians I: 3–6 586
VII. Poetry — After the Storm 594
VIII. Centres of Ministerial Influence 595
IX. Short Sermons 602
X. Literary Notices 604
XI. The Round Table 609
General Index 613